

Member of Scientific Board

www.SSDship.com/board

Bio Malte Zeretzke

Head of R&D

Carnival Maritime GmbH

Based in Hamburg, Germany

History and background:

Malte Zeretzke is responsible for R&D at Carnival Maritime, fleet operator of AIDA and Costa. Here he is developing a strategy for the ambitious, economic and resilient decarbonization of the existing and future fleet. Focus is on merging energy and technology strategy by scouting, evaluating, combining and ultimately demonstrating future-oriented technologies and energy sources for the cruise sector. Previously, Mr. Zeretzke worked at DNV as a consulting engineer in sustainable technologies and international environmental legislation for the Federal Ministry of Transport. He is member of the advisory board of the DLR institute for Maritime Energy Systems.
